

Hi everyone, my name is Barney.

I am a soft coated wheaten terrier, and I had to leave my mom recently because I went to the rainbow bridge. I want to tell you a little about my mom and what kind of life I had on earth, because I want to share my joy with you.

My mom would take me lots of places, we always went for walks on the beach and we would go sailing a lot. She also has a really big funny looking dog she calls a "horse", and we would go and play with it sometimes. It wasn't just her and me though, I had two other friends at home that I could play with. My mom and I shared lots of secrets with each other, and even though its not a secret, I loved it when she rubbed my tummy. There were so many things that we did together, but the most important thing is that we were the best of friends.

Because I had such a great love, I wanted to give you a gift to help all of you be able to find the type of love I had with my mom. I want you all to have full stomachs, warm blankets, lots of pets and rubbed tummies, toys to play with, and best friends to tell secrets to.

Love,
Barney
